AMAZING AEROSPACE

Mornington Peninsula Shire operates the Foyer Exhibition Space at the Mornington Library as a prominent community exhibition space for local artists to display original works. This exhibition features the “Amazing Aerospace” posters by Rupert Brown.

Our lived experience of air travel is influenced to a great extent by the aircraft that fly us to our destinations. Today we have squashy seats, small TVs, a wandering drinks trolley and funny smelling toilets. But the aircraft are still marvels of engineering and putting technology aside, every aircraft that flies has overcome industrial and political hurdles and had a “yes” said against countless decisions. So many great aircraft designs never leave the drawing board and yet if they had, our experience of air travel today could be very different. This exhibition re-imagines some of the great aircraft of the past and looks into the future to see what technology we will need to go further.

All posters on display are for sale.

To purchase works please send an e-mail to contact@rupert-design.com
